HOMEWORK STRESS:

First off, what is homework stress?

Homework stress is the anxiety, pressure, or emotional strain students feel due to many homework demands. It can affect sleep, motivation, mood and overall wellbeing.

Here are 5 ways to prevent homework stress:

- Create a routine: Set a regular time and quiet space for doing homework to build a predictable schedule.
  - Break it down: Divide a big task into smaller, manageable chunks to avoid feeling overwhelmed.
  - Avoid last-minute work: Start assignments early and use a planner to track deadlines.
  - Take breaks: Use short breaks between tasks to rest your brain and recharge.
- Ask for help: Talk to a teacher, parent, or friend if you're stuck or stressed ... it's okay to ask!

HOMEWORK HELP SESSION:

We will be holding a homework help session in G5 at lunch - Wednesday the 21st of May.

Register your interest below or just pop in:
